Milk Crust, Dandruff, Eczema and all Scalp Humors Cured by Cuticura

LAST NOVEMBER my little boy, aged three years, fell against the stove while he was running, and cut his head, and, right after that, he broke out all over his head, face and left ear. I had a good doctor, Dr. ——, to attend him, but he got worse, and the doctor could not cure him. His whole head, face and left ear were in a fearful state, and he suffered terribly. I caught the disease from him, and it spread all over my face and neck and even got into my eyes. Nobody thought we would ever get better. In fact, we were disgusted with life. I heard of the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and procured a bottle of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, a box of CUTICURA and a cake of CUTICURA SOAP, and used them constantly day and night. After using two bottles of RESOLVENT, four boxes of CUTICURA and four cakes of SOAP, we are perfectly cured without a scar. My boy's skin is now like satin.

THE WORST SORE HEAD.

Have been in the drug and medicine business twenty-five years. Have been selling your CUTICURA REMEDIES since they came West. They lead all others in their line. We could not write nor could you print all we have heard said in favor of the CUTICURA REMEDIES. One year ago the CUTICURA and SOAP cured a little girl in our house of the worst sore head we ever saw, and the RESOLVENT and CUTICURA are now curing a young gentleman of a sore leg, while the physicians are trying to have it amputated. It will save his leg and perhaps his life. Too much can not be said in favor of CUTICURA REMEDIES.

A SPEECH BY BLAINE.

He Opens the Campaign for his Party in Maine.

STILL SOLID FOR PROTECTION

He Censures Bayard for his Policy in the Fishery Troubles and the Cutting Case—The Liquor Question—Etc.

SEBAGO LAKE, Me., Aug 24.—James G. Blaine made a speech here to-day, opening the political campaign in this state for the republican party. After reviewing the fact of the induction of the democratic party to power, the speaker touched upon the record made by congress, and declared that from the record it was shown that the policy of protection versus free trade was an issue shaped and determined no longer by sectional matters, but had become general and national, affecting a distinct and well marked line of division between the [illegible] democratic party. He contended that the hostility of the democratic party to protection [illegible] the country a vast [illegible] in many ways obstructed the progress and development of [illegible] the condition of the financial condition of the working classes prior to the enactment of the first protective measure as compared with to-day.

THE LABOR QUESTION.

He spoke of the labor question, contending that [illegible] could by any principle [illegible] this [illegible] harmony and [illegible] be a philanthropic patriot and [illegible] man. [illegible] the speaker said, would generally [illegible] perfect free [illegible] the advantages [illegible] power throughout the nation [illegible] are certainly among the rights of all men under republican government. He [illegible] under the rule of free trade could wages in the United States be kept [illegible] He also dwelt [illegible] that the colored men of the South were [illegible] into artisans and if free [illegible] only came into competition with the highly skilled [illegible] but the colored labor would remain subject to the will of the white man, receiving inadequate compensation for his own toil [illegible] crowding down the compensation of the white laborer.

THE FISHERY QUESTION.

He dwelt at great length on the fishery question. He said that the senate and house having formally terminated the treaty of 1871 by an overwhelming vote, Secretary of State Bayard continued the treaty for six months at the request of the British minister, the latter exacting pledges that the president would recommend the appointment of a commission to decide upon the exact basis of the fishery rights of both nations. The president carried out the promise in the verbatim language of the compact. The speaker characterized the entire proceeding as most extraordinary, contending that a pledge being held in the British foreign office robbed the president of his liberty as an executive. When it was ascertained that congress would not sanction an international commission with the Dominion of Canada, the speaker said, with the presumed approval of the imperial government began a series of outrages upon American shipping and fishing vessels and fishing crews, seeking in every way to destroy their business and deprive them of their fishing rights. This was done with the deliberate intention and obvious expectation of forcing concessions from this government.

Blaine took up the treaty of 1818 and discussed it from the standpoint of Webster, and using the language of that statesman said if an American fishing vessel were captured by one of her vessels of war the crown of England was answerable. The treaty was made with England, and it was not to be expected that the United States would submit their rights to be adjudicated in petty tribunals of the provinces, or allow our vessels to be seized by constables or other petty officers and condemned by municipal courts of Quebec, Newfoundland and New Brunswick. Blaine said it would be refreshing if Webster's words could be repeated from official sources to-day.

The speaker declared that England and the United States could not go to war except on a point touching the imperial integrity of one or the other, but the country is weary of hearing that Canadian constables are arresting American crews and Canadian gunboats capturing vessels on the high seas floating the American flag.

THE CUTTING CASE.

Regarding the Cutting case, the speaker said that in contrast with the patient endurance with Canadian outrages was the unnecessary and unlimited display of violence and bravado towards Mexico. He declared that when the United States agreed to accept arbitration as a means of adjusting difficulties with England the government was under bonds to the public opinion of the world to offer arbitration to any weaker power as a means of settling a difficulty. Otherwise we placed ourselves in a disreputable attitude of accepting arbitration with a strong power and resorting to force with a weak power. There was no adequate cause for the demonstration. "We cannot," said the speaker, "without loss of character and chivalry begin our negotiation with threats of war."

PROHIBITION.

Regarding prohibition, the speaker said the republican party of Maine had been pledged to prohibition from the day of its organization and had enacted all the laws regarding its enforcement. This year the democrats were opponents of prohibition, still certain prohibition advocates had adopted the shibboleth, "The republican party must be killed," and made an alliance with the democrats. The speaker said against this alliance the republican party presented its record of uniform support of prohibition and protection of American labor.

WASHINGTON NEWS ITEMS.

THE GOVERNMENT'S INDIAN POLICY.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—There is no longer any reasonable doubt that the government has fully decided to permanently remove from the territory of Arizona those of the Chiricahua and Warm Spring band of Apaches now on San Carlos reservation. The only important question not yet decided is said to be where shall they be located. This question, which is regarded as very important, has received earnest and thoughtful consideration, and there now seems to be a probability that they will be placed on the Fort Marion military reservation at St. Augustine, Florida, where Chihuahua and his band are now quartered. The smallness of this reservation is, however, regarded as a serious fault, and some others less objectionable may yet be selected.

It is stated that the detention at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, of Chief Chatto and his dozen companions, who were returning to their reservation from a visit to Washington, and who, as well as Geronimo and his band of renegades, belong to Cheyenne, was ordered as a precaution against their opposition to the scheme of removal.

It is also stated that the president has given his willing consent to the change, and has placed the details in the hands of Secretary Lamar and Gen. Sheridan, and that he warmly approves of the vigorous policy of Gen. Miles, and believes that the peace of the southwest demands that the hostiles be [illegible] pursued until captured or exterminated, and that Geronimo when captured should be punished as other perpetrators of high crimes are punished.

THE CUTTING CASE.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—An official telegram has been received from Minister Jackson confirming press reports of Cutting's release, but giving no particulars. No doubt is entertained at the department that the published statements with regard to the reasons alleged by the Mexicans for their actions are correct. The release will not affect Sedgwick's mission, which is to learn all the facts in the case. The government does not at present concern itself with any question of damages due Cutting, but will use the information it may gather through Sedgwick in furtherance of its negotiations for a change of the Mexican laws in so far as they are held to give the right to try Americans for acts committed within American territory.

The Aresures Mondragon murder is still a subject of correspondence, or rather of inquiry, as it appears at present that the only act for which this government can demand redress is for that of kidnapping Aresures when he was domiciled on this side of the border. In no event can it be expected that Mondragon will be surrendered for trial to the American authorities. A special treaty clause interferes to warrant the refusal on Mexico's part to surrender one of her citizens upon any pretext.

THE OLEOMARGARINE STAMPS.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Work upon the models for the oleomargarine tax stamps has been delayed by the absence of the assistant superintendent of the bureau of engraving and printing, and they will not be ready for several days. The design is said to be simply a bull trampling a serpent underfoot in the center, while around the margin are the words "Oleomargarine" and "Internal Revenue," the denomination of the stamp being indicated in the corner. There will be three varieties of stamps needed in order to operate the oleomargarine law, one kind for retailers, another for wholesale dealers and a third for manufacturers. These will be in one or several denominations, and coupons will be attached in order to make any intermediate number required.

IMPORTS AND EXPORTS.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The chief of the bureau of statistics has sent to the acting secretary of the treasury a statement of the values of imports and exports of the United States for the month of July, 1886, and for the seven and twelve months ended July 31, 1886. The value of exports of merchandise for the month of July, 1886, according to the statement, was $55,78[illegible]07, and that of imports of merchandise $55,830,709. For the twelve months ended July 31, 1886, exports of merchandise amounted to [illegible]. The imports and exports of the two [illegible] for the same periods was as follows: For July, 1886—exports gold $1,175,311, silver $2,240,37[illegible]; imports gold $580,072, silver $1,40[illegible]. For the twelve months ended July 31, 1886—exports gold $42,7[illegible]932, silver $28,541,554; imports gold $20,735,009, silver $16,41[illegible].

TREASURER JORDAN TO RESIGN.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—The World's Washington special says: The chances are that Treasurer Jordan will soon resign and return to New York to resume his duties in the bank where he was before his appointment as treasurer.

ANOTHER BOND CALL PROBABLE.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—It is probable that another call for $15,000,000 in the 3 per cent bonds will be made during the second week of September.

THE TEXAS STORM.

The Destruction of Shipping Greater than First Reported.

GALVESTON, Aug. 24.—A special to the News from San Antonio says: About 5 o'clock this evening a funnel shaped cloud made its appearance in the northwest and in a few seconds swept diagonally across the city. The storm lasted about fifty minutes and was accompanied by heavy hail the size of marbles. Among the buildings damaged [illegible] Adams's boarding house and police headquarters, which had the roof torn off.

MANY LIVES LOST.

GALVESTON, Aug. 24.—A special to the News from Victoria says: Additional news of the destructive force of last Friday's storm are constantly being received. The latest [illegible] report the [illegible] of Capt. Wm. Moore, wife and five children and his brother, Joseph Moore, wife and three children, the former residing at Deming's bridge and [illegible] Elliott. They came down to Matagorda by [illegible] Friday evening to visit friends on Matagorda peninsula. On the same evening the party left [illegible] on the sloop Dauntless for their destination. Yesterday the vessel was discovered in the [illegible] bottom upwards.

EASTERN NEWS ITEMS.

THE NEW YORK STREET CAR STRIKE.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Eleven hundred employes of the Fourth and Seventh avenue surface road were paid to-day. Superintendent Newell said that since the men refused to accept the terms of the company he will have nothing more to do with them. He has advertised for new men and hopes to start cars this afternoon.

[illegible] Inspector Dilkes, with a force of seventy men, is guarding the stables. Early this morning fifteen non-union men of the Third avenue surface road started for the stables of the Broadway road to apply for work. They were intercepted by strikers and assaulted and driven away. Master Workman Graham hastened to the stables and ordered the men to restrain from all violence. It was asserted that the company had violated their agreement, which was to make each driver and conductor run [illegible] five trips a day. The new schedule would [illegible] run six trips, or about sixteen hours' work.

A meeting of members of the local assembly of car employes will be held to-night.

Employes of the Belt line left work at 4 A. M. They complain of discharges on frivolous pretexts and also of increasing the hours of work with a reduction in wages.

Employes of the three roads known as the Forty-second street lines complain of the new time table issued to-day. They claim that they will have to work ten hours daily without eating or rest. A strike will probably be ordered to-night.

DISASTROUS EFFECTS OF THE STORM.

GALVESTON, Aug. 24.—The recent storm proved very destructive for small vessels. The sloop Hattie J. went to pieces off Pelican island. The crew were saved. Lying near her bottom up is the scow Eliza. Her crew of two men are supposed to be drowned. An unknown vessel is reported bottom up at Redfish bay. The schooner Livonia Perkins is now lying bottom up in the bay near Pelican island. Two of her crew were lost. The schooner Lottie May is ashore near Indianola, and all hands are supposed to have been lost. All the small craft in the bay from Shoal to Edward point are reported lost. The schooner Perry has gone to pieces and her captain and cook were drowned. The remainder of the crew were saved. It is roughly estimated that the damage done to shipping in the vicinity approximates $100,000. The village of Quinland, at the mouth of the Brazos river, was entirely swept away. Indianola is a complete wreck, not more than three or four houses having been spared destruction. Nearly all the sheep and cattle on the island were drowned. None of the survivors saved anything besides what they had on.

The bodies of Mrs. Dr. Hodges, her twin children and her sister, Mrs. Crocker, victims of the storm at Indianola, were interred at Cuero Sunday.

The city council last evening appropriated $1,000 for the benefit of the storm sufferers of this city. Citizens have subscribed $5,000 for the same purpose. This will only afford but temporary relief, as over 150 families were rendered homeless and destitute by the storm.

HELP FOR THE IRISH.

DETROIT, Aug. 24.—The following was sent from here to-day:

T. Harrington, O'Connell Street, Dublin, Ireland: I am mailing a draft for £3,000. The American league reads with indignation of the Gweedore and other heartless evictions, and will do its utmost to keep our kindred in their houses while waiting for an Irish parliament. CHARLES O'REILLY.

The reverend treasurer wishes it distinctly understood that this transmission is from the surplus of the league fund reported to the Chicago convention, in no wise connected with the parliamentary funds, but used in cases of evicted tenants. No funds will be held on deposit here so long as a pressing necessity requires their use in Ireland.

CUTTING PUBLISHES AN ADDRESS.

EL PASO, Tex., Aug. 24.—Cutting this evening publishes an address to the people of the United States in which he thanks the people of El Paso, the press of Texas and particularly Consul Brigham for the interest taken and assistance rendered him during his imprisonment. He says the main issue, that of Mexico's right to extra territorial jurisdiction over foreigners, is not at all settled by his release. He winds up with a violent abuse of Mexico and her institutions and hopes the United States will soon invade and conquer the whole country.

ANARCHISTS NOT ENCOURAGED.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 24.—A committee of anarchists called upon Mayor Gardner to-day and he refused to grant the use of the public square. He told the committee that he would prevent such a meeting if it was within his power to do so.

THE IRISH DELEGATES RETURN.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Messrs. O'Brien, Deasy and Redmond, comprising the delegation from Ireland to the Chicago convention of the Irish national league, left for Europe on the steamer Wisconsin this noon.

CRIMINAL CALENDAR.

[illegible] CHARGES AGAINST PHILADELPHIA'S MAYOR.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 24.—The sensation of the day here are the charges published for the week past by the Times against William B. Smith, mayor of the city, in which the latter is openly accused of being a thief and embezzler to the amount of many thousand dollars. The only reply the mayor has made to the very grave charges is that he has not money enough to engage in a lawsuit.

The Times in a [illegible] editorial this morning says: Mayor Smith yesterday paid into the city treasury an additional sum of $2,000, being the third payment forced from him within the last week by the exposure of his lawless retention of city moneys. Until the 6th of this month he had paid into the treasury only the sum of $25 during the present year, which payment was made on the 13th of January for the sale of a cow. Mayor Smith has put himself in an attitude of a criminal chief magistrate openly defying the law and insolently affronting intelligent and honest public sentiment. He challenges every good citizen to an assertion of the majesty of the law by his swaggering lawlessness. For him to remain in executive charge of the second city of the nation and first in intelligence and respect for the law would be a consuming reproach on Philadelphia and an invitation to lawlessness and embezzlement in every public trust and every business enterprise.

It is stated that Mayor Smith has threatened to shoot Col. McClure, editor of the Philadelphia Times, on sight.

MURDERED HER INFANT.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Police Captain Conklin of East Eighty-eighth street sent the following dispatch to acting police superintendent Steers this morning: Kate Stalb, German nurse, set fire to a room in the basement at No. 218 Eightieth street. The owner smelled the smoke and traced it to her door. When he entered her room to put out the fire he discovered the body of a nearly newly born child on the charred and burning bed. It was half consumed by fire and the sex of the child could no longer be distinguished. Examination showed a deep cut on the child's head that had killed it. The police put the woman under arrest and summoned the coroner. Appearances indicate that Catharine Stalb killed the child and attempted to chop it up for cremating it in the kitchen stove, but found it even after mutilating it too large and built a funeral pyre of pillows on her bed and lighted it. She persists in a declaration of innocence of the crime, and says she awoke to find the bed on fire. Surgical examination proved, however, that she had recently become a mother. The child had been born alive to all appearances and was killed with a blow of a sharp instrument that nearly severed the head from the body. The prisoner lived for several months at 2[illegible]5 East Eightieth street, where she [illegible] for the wife of Otto Williams, a young butcher, who visited her.

THE DEPOSED PRINCE.

Rival Provisional Governments Now in Operation.

ALEXANDER'S STAR ASCENDING

A Majority of the Soldiery and the People Favor his Cause—Comment of the European and American Press—Frontier Notes

LONDON, Aug. 24.—The prefect of Varna received Friday evening a circular signed by Karaveloff, Rankoff, Stoiloff and Radishoff ordering him to inform the people that Prince Alexander had been dismissed. All towns in Bulgaria and Roumelia except Widdin are in a state of siege. It is rumored at Berlin that Alexander was compelled to abdicate by threats of death.

A MIDNIGHT DEED.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—Authentic dispatches from Sofia show that the deposition of Prince Alexander of Bulgaria was accomplished during the night. According to these advices a thoroughly disaffected regiment of cavalry was detailed in the city after nightfall when the other troops retired to their barracks. This regiment, perfectly under control of the revolutionists, surrounded the palace about two hours past midnight. Alexander [illegible] the palace closed. The revolutionary leaders with the assistance of the soldiers forced their way into the building, went to the prince's bed chamber and had him aroused. They bluntly made known to him the purpose of their intrusion. He was stunned, having been taken completely unawares. When he recovered his self control and realized the utter helplessness of his situation he bitterly reproached his captors for their treachery. What followed is still rather obscure. The revolutionists declare that Alexander signed a formal abdication of the throne. Others, however, assert that he firmly declined to sign his abdication and that in consequence of his refusal he was made a prisoner and confined in the palace on pain of being told he would be kept there until he complied with the demands of the revolutionists. The prince was removed from Sofia under a cavalry escort before daybreak. The people did not become acquainted with the fact of the coup d'etat until several hours after the prince was removed from the palace.

Telegrams from Widdin say that advices received there from Bulgaria say there is much discontent among the troops over the change in government. A large proportion of the troops are disposed to restore Alexander.

ADVICES FROM CONSTANTINOPLE.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 24.—The porte has sent a circular to the powers concerning the Bulgarian crisis. The circular says the deposition of Alexander has left Bulgaria in a position which interests the powers as much as it does Turkey and asks to be informed of their intentions and opinions respecting the situation as soon as possible.

Troops in Eastern Roumelia and Shumla disapprove of the deposition. Two thousand people who openly favor the restoration of Alexander met yesterday in front of the Russian consulate in Philippopolis, capital of Eastern Roumelia, and made a public demonstration of their wishes. The deposition has divided the population of Sofia into two hostile parties. Partisanship on both sides has become dangerously heated already and it is feared that party conflicts of a serious nature will ensue.

Railway service between Constantinople and Roumelia has been suspended. Orders have been sent to Adrianople suspending the issue of tickets beyond the frontier.

RUSSIAN PRESS COMMENT.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 23.—The Journal de St. Petersburg, commenting on the Bulgarian crisis, says it hopes the politicians of Bulgaria and Roumania will have wisdom to understand that the destinies of both nations depend on the behavior of the people. The powers with whom rests the decision of these destinies, adds the Journal, desire above all things peace, and the good will of these powers should be secured. Politicians should abstain from agitation and should not attempt to hamper their good intentions.

The Russian press do not generally believe that any foreign powers will interfere with Russia's direct pacification of Bulgaria. The Novoe Vremya advocates the sending of a Russian dignitary to maintain order until a successor to Prince Alexander shall have been chosen.

ALEXANDER'S FRIENDS AT WORK.

VIENNA, Aug. 24.—The Political Correspondence prints a dispatch from Giurgevo, in Roumania, on the Danube opposite Rustchuk, which says the Bulgarian troops in Eastern Roumelia have issued a pronunciamento in favor of Prince Alexander. The dispatch further says that the Roumelian troops have proclaimed Col. M[illegible] head of the provisional government which they have organized to oppose the government of Karaveloff, and adds that the inhabitants of Shumla and Tirnova have publicly declared for Alexander and the movement for his restoration is spreading.

THE CAPTIVE PRINCE.

BUCHAREST, Aug. 24.—The yacht supposed to have Alexander on board, a prisoner, passed Giurgevo without stopping. It was expected to touch there. The yacht was signaled this morning near Silistria. It is supposed that the revolutionists intend to land on Russian territory. The Roumanian government has taken all the necessary steps to protect Alexander if he is landed in Roumania. The yacht was last reported at Reni, in Bessarabia, at the junction of the Pruth and Danube. This is Russian territory.

ANOTHER PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 24.—A second provisional government has been set up in Bulgaria with headquarters at Tirnova. This government is in opposition to that of Karaveloff and it favors Alexander. Stambouloff was made president of the Tirnova government. He is one of the men whose names were printed in the circular issued yesterday by Karaveloff's government to convince the people that all the prominent men of the country supported the revolution.

A MAJORITY FOR ALEXANDER.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—Telegrams from Bucharest state that a majority of the Bulgarian army as well as a majority of the Bulgarian people have already declared adherence to Alexander, including the soldiers in the Widdin, Nyeropol's and Silistria garrisons. Col. Moutodoroff, chief of the Roumanian militia, has offered to lead troops to meet Prince Alexander, escort him back to Sofia and replace him on the Bulgarian throne. M. Stambouloff, president of the Tirnova provisional government, acting in concert with Col. Mouto[illegible] [illegible] M. Stambouloff declares that the garrison at Sofia is ready to surrender to any [illegible] provided the soldiers are assured of amnesty.

ANOTHER RUSSIAN MOVE.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—Dispatches from Calcutta state that news of the demand of the emir of Bokhara [illegible] the ameer of Afghanistan for the [illegible] of the oasis of Khoja Saleh has created [illegible] excitement throughout India, as it is the [illegible] of another Russian coup d'etat which has Afghanistan for its object.

HOPE FOR ALEXANDER.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—A Bucharest dispatch says that disorder prevails in Sofia and that the outlying garrisons are awaiting the signal to march on the capital. It is stated that the Roumelian militia are also prepared for actual service and that Alexander's cause is hourly gaining ground.

A BLOODY ENCOUNTER.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—The Daily Telegraph says: It is stated that a sanguinary encounter has taken place among the troops at Jassy, Roumania, resulting in the killing and wounding of many on both sides.

THE GOVERNMENT QUESTIONED.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—The under secretary for foreign affairs, replying to questions in the commons this afternoon, stated that the government had no additional news from Bulgaria. The government, he said, viewed events in that country with the gravest fears. He declined to state whether Russia was implicated in these results. The question as to Russia's complicity will be renewed to-morrow.

SERVIA PREPARING FOR WAR.

PARIS, Aug. 24.—Reports are current here that Servia has begun to place her army on a war footing.

AMERICAN PRESS COMMENT.

Views of the New York Papers on the Deposition of Prince Alexander.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—All the morning papers have long editorials on the deposition of Prince Alexander. The Sun says: "If Lord Salisbury really wanted a pretext for war to divert public attention from the Irish question to foreign complications he should now feel satisfied. Against the deposition of England's protege, Prince Alexander of Bulgaria, by a revolution plainly fomented by Russian agents, the British foreign office must need certainly protest, and if the protest is unheeded it must either fight or for the present abdicate the position of a first-class power in European politics. The prestige of England could not bear a second stroke like that administered in the Batoum affair."

The Times says: "The English, judging from the comments of their press, can not believe in the complicity of Germany and Austria, since they assume that their own government was left utterly in the dark. Ostensibly the work is that of the Bulgarian people, influenced by no foreign pressure. This will doubtless be the diplomatic assumption, but much in the future may depend on whether Germany and Austria have known of the project and assented to it. In any case the recent stir created by Russia about Port Lazareff in the far East and about the Afghan frontier appear like feints to draw attention away from the Balkans, while the increase of Russia's power in the Black sea and the closing of Batoum now looks like notifications that she is prepared to retain at all hazards her restored supremacy in the peninsula."

The Tribune says: "Sudden and unlooked for as the prince's downfall is to the general public who had not received warning of it in advance, it will be acquiesced in, in view of the exigencies of European peace. The dethronement of Prince Alexander may be looked upon as a tendency to defer rather than hasten war. England is terribly startled by this new proof of the ceaseless activity of Russia, whose bad faith in the Batoum affair it recently denounced, but England will not raise an army to restore Prince Alexander to the throne, nor will other powers interfere as long as Prince Bismarck deems inaction expedient."

IN A NUTSHELL.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—London specials say that English comments on the revolution in Bulgaria amount to this: "The czar ought to be thrashed for upsetting Prince Alexander, and we hope Germany and Austria will give him a thrashing, but if they don't we shan't, because we can't."

PARNELL IN PARLIAMENT.

He Resumes the Debate on the Address in Reply to the Queen's Speech.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—Parnell was loudly cheered in the commons to-night on rising to resume the debate on the address in reply to the queen's speech. He said he believed that if the country had been given three more weeks to consider the home rule bill the tories would not now be seen installed on the treasury bench. The Irish party had every reason to be satisfied with the present [illegible] of the liberal party had de[illegible] Irish autonomy. The tories had [illegible] from temporary liberal hesitation. [illegible] the present government had exhibited them[illegible] as a spectacle for God and [illegible] to govern Ireland the liberal [illegible] would [illegible]. The Irish had every reason to have patience. There was a winning [illegible]. If the government speech were intended [illegible] they would fail to have that effect. At the same time there would be considerable difficulty with the rent question. He regretted that the government had not appreciated the gravity of the situation. A royal commission would be unable to report until the pinch of winter was over. If the system of dual ownership was replaced by a system of single ownership there would be no risk to the English taxpayer.

THE CONDITIONS CHANGED.

Parnell said he had agreed to the adoption of the land purchase act of 1885 because he then believed that a settlement of the national question would come concurrently and because the conservative government had sent to Ireland Lord Carnarvon, who was an avowed home ruler. Now the conditions were entirely changed. Gladstone's purchase scheme would have safely settled the land question. Every penny, principal and interest, could have been collected through customs and excise duties, and the money would have been as safe as the Bank of England. If the government thought of resolving the Irish question without settling the land question it would find that it had got hold of the wrong end of a very thorny stick. [Cheers.] The government must reduce rents either at the expense of the landlords or the expense of the British taxpayer.

Parnell denounced the dishonesty of attempting to stimulate crushed industries by liberal doses of English public money. He said the Irish people bitterly refused to sell their national birthright for a mess of pottage which the government offered. [Parnellite cheers.] The way to develop the resources of Ireland was to allow the Irish to develop them themselves. [Cheers.] They did not want an influx of capital, for there was plenty of that in Ireland. They wanted to be allowed to help themselves. [Conservative cheers and laughter.] The government allowed the Irish to build harbors, drain land and generally develop the resources of the country when they did not allow the Irish to reap the profit. [Cheers.] The Irish party repudiated the proposed fraud on the British taxpayer. Let the government, which obtained office by misrepresentation, he would not say lying, pursue their own way and establish a wholesome system of bribery and corruption. [Cheers.]

TROUBLE SURE TO COME.

Parnell here read his amendment to the address and proceeded. He said that judicial rents were too high. He accused the government with encouraging landlords to evict by the wholesale, knowing that agrarian crime always follows evictions. Why did tenants submitting to moonlight raids refuse to give evidence? Because, taking Kerry as an example, tenants knew that before the moonlight raids Lord Kinmore would not leave a roof over the heads of his tenants. The Irish would be patient, but the inducement held out by landlords who tried to exact impossible rents would bear fruit, and might produce exasperation. The landlords would clamor for coercion and force the government to adopt coercive measures. He believed that coercion would come, and very severe coercion, too—coercion that would not stop at criminals but attack political opponents.

If he might offer a suggestion he would urge that judicial tenancies should be fixed at three years instead of fifteen years and that there should be a revision of rents in accordance with prevailing prices. In conclusion he said: "The Irish will never submit to a government not their own. [Cheers.] The question of an autonomous government will always be fixed in the hearts of the Irish people." [Prolonged cheers.]

A SPEECH BY GLADSTONE.

Gladstone upon rising was loudly cheered. He began by accusing the government of having taken an unusual course in going so far outside of the speech from the throne. He did not remember an occasion in fifty years when the government thought it politic to use an address as an opportunity for explaining its policy beyond the compass of the speech. He thought the government should have reserved the main lines of their measures until the issues themselves could be presented, but he was unwilling to complain of the action of the government.

He intimated that he would take no part in the division on Parnell's amendment, because he deprecated any attempt to force a definite premature expression of opinion on a policy which the government foreshadowed for future guidance. Their policy, however, was open to remark. It bore upon five different points, viz: the issue of royal commissions, questions of public works, land purchase, an inquiry into land rents, and subjects of legal government. He believed that the government policy was not a sober one, but was eminently complex and difficult.

Gladstone described the policy of the government as an absolute inversion of the policy of the late government. Instead of giving Ireland self government, the present government proposed that England should govern Ireland to a greater extent than it did at the present time. The late government had proposed that rents and revenues of Ireland be taken as security for land purchase loans. He only hoped that the critics who condemned that security would be equally vigilant concerning the security now proposed.

The government, he continued, evidently intended to adopt a large scheme of land purchase. Was the tenant to be asked to be treated upon a basis of the real value of the property and the landlord upon the basis of judicious rents, and was the state to make up the difference? Mr. [illegible] maintained that there was no power [illegible] ever to carry such a fatal proposal into effect. [Cheers.] He had been taunted with [illegible] become leader of the Irish nationalists. If that was the charge against him he was [illegible] having any part whatever in becoming leader or follower he did not care where in [illegible] tending to make smooth the path of the people of Ireland and encourage them to hope for a realization of their just rights. [Cheers.]

UNIONIST WHIP.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—The unionists have issued a whip against Mr. Parnell's amendment to the address. Mr. Chamberlain will move the adjournment of the debate on the address to-morrow, and on Thursday he will move for a division. Mr. Gladstone will start for Munich to-morrow on a three weeks vacation. He has arranged to return if necessary at a moment's notice.

CABINET MEETING.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—The cabinet met to-day and spent two hours discussing the Irish question.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—The ministers after long discussion of Parnell's amendment to the address in reply to the queen's speech decided to oppose it.

IRELAND.

IRELAND MUST HAVE A PARLIAMENT.

DUBLIN, Aug. 24.—Lord Mayor Sullivan presided to-day over the fortnightly meeting of the national league. In an address he declared that Ireland was prepared to accept Gladstone's home rule bill as a settlement of the controversy with England. Of course Irishmen would not, Sullivan said, refuse to receive whatever good things the tories might offer short of Gladstone's proposed benefaction, but the tories might well know now as well as later that the people of Ireland would never be content until they had a parliament of their own.

Curragh of Kildare, a great plain owned by the British crown in the heart of Kildare county and used for military purposes, is a scene of unusual activity at present. The place is being put in readiness to receive five additional regiments of infantry and other additional regiments of cavalry. These fresh troops are to be used in assisting in the work of eviction during the coming winter. The authorities expect that the default in rents among the Irish peasantry through the winter will be unusually great and the present force in Ireland will, unless much strengthened, prove [illegible] inadequate to the work of protecting the interests of landlords.

THE BELFAST RIOTS.

BELFAST, Aug. 24.—Nine policemen recently arrested, charged with murder for firing upon, and, as alleged, killing a number of people during the late riots, were brought up for examination to-day in the criminal court. They all swore that they fired over the heads of the people. Judge Munro granted the policemen release on bail with two sureties qualifying for £50 in each case.

Six of the rioters who took conspicuous parts in the riots were to-day committed for trial. The committing magistrate announced that it was his intention to treat all rioters in the same way.

THE MAYOR GOES TO DUBLIN.

BELFAST, Aug. 24.—Mayor Eger, of this city, has gone to Dublin to confer with the Irish executive in regard to the recent Belfast riots. The city is quiet to-day. Four more of the persons injured during disorders last night have been removed to the hospitals.

PORTLAND, WEDNESDAY, AUG. 25, 1886.

THE FUTURE OF POLITICS.

The future of politics is not a hopeful one for the republican party, despite the fact that the astute Mr. Edmunds, in an authorized interview, thinks that the republicans have a better chance to elect the next president than the democracy if the party "go west" for a candidate in 1888, and select "some good, clean, upright man with an honest record upon financial questions, a man who is above reproach." Mr. Edmunds, according to ex-Gov. Long, of Massachusetts, has John Sherman in his eye and thought, and Gov. Long thinks Sherman, if nominated, could carry New York and be elected. The truth, as it seems to us, is that the republican party is lame not so much for the lack of a candidate as for an issue. The sentimental issues are extinct; the record of the last congress is that of a barren session for both parties, so far as any word or deed of fruitful promise for the business interests of the country. President Cleveland is the only man who has gained anything in public esteem by his connection with the legislation of the session. When Mr. Edmunds declares that in all his twenty years of experience in the senate there has not been such a large number of bad appointments before that body for confirmation as during the past eight months he indicts the republican senate for its conduct in approving nominations he declares unfit, since Mr. Cleveland has had a smaller per cent. of his nominations rejected than any previous president. When Mr. Edmunds says the senate has sent over to the house important legislation and the "house has simply refused to consider it," he specifies but a single measure, the interstate commerce bill. The house, in our judgment, wisely refused to approve the senate's sanction of the Blair education bill, which would have cost the nation $77,000,000 for education in states that need not subsidies, but awakened self-respect to pay their own school bills, and the Blair pension bill, which would have cost the country millions of dollars, to be paid without careful guard or discrimination to the soldiers of the late war. The house also rejected the Hennepin canal and other jobs inserted by the senate in the river and harbor bill. The house failed to act with proper public spirit and courage on the questions of the tariff and silver, but its conduct was not more incompetent or spiritless than that of the senate. The republicans helped Randall to refuse to consider Morrison's tariff bill, but they did not do what they are fairly bound to do, join hands with Randall and help him pass a very moderate measure of revenue reform. The record of both houses was paltry on the subject of the oleomargarine bill. Whether the Fitz John Porter bill be right or wrong, both houses consented to its passage. Both houses truckled to the temperance vote when they passed the bill providing for the study of the nature and effect of alcoholic drinks, which is already about as much of an open secret to all men as the bite of a rattlesnake or the consequences of fooling with fire. Both houses truckled to the soldier vote by passing jobs which did not even command the approval of the G. A. R. at its recent session. Of 987 laws passed, not one-sixth have any bearing on the public interest. The river and harbor bill was made worse by the senate, and the senate had not courage enough to refuse the Morrison silver resolution a passage. The bankrupt bill, a measure of vast commercial consequence, received no serious consideration. The seacoast defenses were left without remedy. The forfeiture of the Pacific land grants was cunningly made a football of by the corporation attorneys in both houses. The interstate commerce bill, the admission of Dakota as a state, the Indian problem, and the electoral count bill, a measure of vital consequence, are other items in the list of failures. Both houses truckled to the civil service reformers and left the law without change. The democracy has justified its old record as a party of negations, while the republican party comes out of the contest with no reputation for statesmanship; hypercritical at the wrong time with the president, obstructive in petty matters and creative of no good thing. ~~The senate as a rule confirmed readily the most~~ unfit nominations and rejected or hung up to the last some of the most meritorious, like that of war democrat Smalley, for collector at Burlington, whom Edmunds hung up until his suspended contestant, Wells, who had been nominated for the Vermont senate as an Edmunds partisan, was obliged to resign, since under the law he could not be a member of the state legislature and a federal officer too. The house bill to prevent aliens from acquiring or owning lands was killed by its senate load of amendments. The Edmunds judiciary committee smothered Beck's bill, to prevent members of congress from acting as corporation attorneys, with a ridiculous substitute. In the senate was born the Edmunds absurd bill to make it impossible for a president to remove the incumbent of a minor federal office without an appeal to the courts. Now, in this record of a barren session, out of which neither party comes with any credit, does any candid critic see any reason for Mr. Edmunds's conclusion that the republican party stands the best chance of electing the next president if "they go West for a conservative candidate, like John Sherman." The record of both parties is that of mere trimmers legislating to catch the vote of every hoodlum faction in the land. Cleveland asked congress to stop the silver coinage; he asked for conservative revenue reform; he supported the civil service act; he was antagonized by his own party, and he was needlessly obstructed by the other. The great public interests of the national credit, the payment of the interest and principal of our bonds in gold or in silver; the maintenance of a sound, stable currency; the public lands, and the repeal of war taxes, and other needless irksome impositions, are matters deserving of statesmanlike consideration and settlement, and yet the record of neither party in the last session of congress implies any sincere interest in these subjects. And the people are not enthusiastic over the statesmanship that proposes to let all great questions sleep until the sound of a fire bell forces a hasty crude solution. Cleveland's record is the salvation of his party as against our party, whose action is that of a clumsy, querulous critic, rather than that of a practical party horsed on some strong steed of honest reform speed and bottom. Taking snap shots at the wandering tom cats of the democratic party does not distract the attention of the people from the yelpings of the republican "yallah" dogs.

In illustration of our argument against the gift of life and freedom to the homicidal lunatic we note the case of James W. Davis, a son of ex-Postmaster Davis, of Albany, N. Y., recently returned from the Utica insane asylum, where he had been confined since March. Drink had caused his madness, and he returned to the old habit. Grabbing a hatchet one afternoon, he rushed into the house where his mother, sister, and sister-in-law, Mrs. Edward Davis, were sitting, and brandishing the weapon over his head, exclaimed: "I have served five months in an asylum, and you are the cause of it." Jumping at his sister-in-law, he struck her three heavy blows on the back of the head, at the base of the skull. Death was almost instantaneous, as the victim's skull was crushed in. The mother was badly hurt in trying to save Mrs. Davis. The murdered woman had led a sad life. Her husband is in an insane asylum and she has had to support her children. Davis is 31 years old and often threatened to kill members of his family before he went to Utica, whence he returned against their protests.

H. M. Sullivan, secretary of the board of trustees of the state university at Oxford, Miss., was recently shot and killed by J. M. Howry, law professor of the university. The dispute which caused the quarrel grew out of "business of the school board." Oxford is the home of Secretary Lamar, who was once a member of its faculty. "That there is more crime in the North than in the South, nobody doubts," says the Selma (Ala.) Times (dem.). "There are more people there in the crime class. It may be that there are as many murders committed there as at the South, though Redfield's statistics fail to show this. But what has this to do with what is a shame to the South, that the very best men in that section, no matter how learned or pious they may be, rush for a shotgun to settle personal difficulties? Instead of mutual recriminations the sections would be well enough employed in deepening the respect for law among all classes, and in the South one great and needed reform is to bring those men who bear pistols and guns and use them as arguments and in avenging insults into thorough public contempt. Statutes are powerless in the face of a social sentiment that esteems shotguns and chivalry as cognate terms."

PORTLAND AND HER "RIVALS."

Those who talk of building up important cities at Tacoma, Yaquina bay, Siuslaw and elsewhere make the mistake of assuming that they can engross the "commerce" of this country without controlling its business. The truth is that we have no commerce in the sense the term is used in the commercial world. We sell some wheat, lumber, wool, salmon, etc., and find ships, usually by special engagement, to carry the stuff away, but we have no great wealth-creating system of exchange independent of the truck and local traffic of the country. Such shipping and receiving business as we have and dignify with the title of commerce is dependent entirely upon our local business. Now whoever does this business will control the "commerce," and it behooves those who would make cities at Tacoma, Yaquina bay and Siuslaw to provide at these termini not only railroads and shipping facilities but the machinery of business. People will sell their produce where they buy their supplies, and so there must be at Tacoma, Yaquina and Siuslaw, before they entirely supersede Portland, not only shipping houses, banks, etc., but a general organization of trade. As well might a merchant fit up a building with empty shelves and expect to attract custom as a railroad company to establish a depot and docks and expect to attract commerce. It is not at all unlikely that a considerable quantity of wheat, possibly a great quantity, will be shipped from Yaquina bay in the future; and nobody doubts that upon the completion of the Cascade branch, a large share of the grain of Eastern Washington will take ship at Tacoma. But while all this is expected, nobody who understands the situation, expects either Yaquina bay or Tacoma to control the grain business. Portland, in the nature of things, from the circumstances of her established position and central situation, will be the market. Here will be the shipping houses in future, as at the present time, and Yaquina and Tacoma will be used as shipping points just as Wilmington and Benicia are used as shipping points by the merchants of San Francisco.

Railroads may terminate "officially" at Tacoma or Yaquina or Siuslaw, but they will terminate actually at the point where the business of the country is carried on. They will run trains where passengers want to go and where there is freight to be carried. Portland has nothing to fear while she holds her status as the business depot of the country.

Mr. Blaine does not "express himself" on the prohibition question. He merely defends the republican party against the rage of the prohibition leaders. It is certainly a little queer that the republican party of Maine, with its "record of uniform support of prohibition" for twenty-five years, has not been able to convince the prohibitionists of its fidelity. Possibly the record is not so "uniform" after all.

Mr. Blaine is wrong in his statement that the tariff issue forms a "distinct and well-marked line of division between the republican and democratic parties." Not at all! There are tens of thousands of republicans quite as sincere and devoted as Mr. Blaine who doubt or deny the policy of protection.

Cutting was set at liberty because the offended party declined to prosecute him, and not to "pacify the United States." Mexico had the right to punish him, unquestionably, and considering all the circumstances we are sorry she didn't do it.

IN BUSINESS AT THE OLD STAND.

Merely a Sample Illustrating the Manner in which "Dispatches" are Made Every Day.

New York Herald, Aug. 16.	Bogus Journal, Aug. 23.
BRUSSELS, Aug. 15.—An extraordinary experiment, unprecedented in judicial annals, was gone through here yesterday at the Hospital de St. Jean in connection with the case of the woman cut in pieces by the midwife, Rodelet, and her lover, Masqueller. As I have already sent to the Herald, the former, who denies the accusation, tried to throw discredit on Masqueller's confession by stating he was physically incapable of cutting up a body in the manner described by himself. In consequence, Masqueller was requested by the authorities to cut up at the Hospital de St. Jean the body of a dead woman lying there for dissection. Masqueller assented and the experiment took place yesterday before the judges and a crowd of medical authorities. Masqueller was at first very much upset, but recovering from his emotion, he took up a kitchen knife and chopped the legs, arms and head of the dead body exactly as he had described. The terrible operation lasted twenty-five minutes, and filled the witness with horror, while convincing the judges of the accuracy of Masqueller's confession.	BRUSSELS, Aug. 22.—An extraordinary experiment, unprecedented in judicial annals, was gone through here yesterday at the Hospital de St. Jean, in connection with the case of the woman cut in pieces by the midwife, Rodelet, and her lover, Masqueller. The former denies the accusation, and tried to throw discredit on Masqueller's confession by stating he was physically incapable of cutting up a body in the manner described by himself. In consequence, Masqueller was requested by the authorities to cut up at the Hospital de St. Jean the body of a dead woman lying there for dissection. Masqueller assented and the experiment took place yesterday before the judges and a crowd of medical authorities. Masqueller was at first very much upset, but recovering from his emotion, he took up a kitchen knife and chopped the legs, arms and head of the dead body exactly as he had described. The terrible operation lasted twenty-five minutes and filled the witnesses with horror, while convincing the judges of the accuracy of Masqueller's confession.

BURMAH.

DISASTROUS FLOOD AT MANDALAY.

MANDALAY, Aug. 24.—One of the embankments of the Irrawaddy river burst in this city yesterday. The break is 300 yards in length, and so rapid was the flow of water that in a few moments the whole district was flooded from four to ten feet deep. Engineers at once cut the dam south of the city, to allow the waters to subside, but the result of this is as yet unknown. Fifty thousand people are to-day homeless in the city, their houses and possessions having been either destroyed or submerged. A number of persons were drowned by the sudden inrush of waters; how many has not yet been ascertained. The flooded district had within its territory many of the food supplying stores, and all of these were swept away. The result will be an approach to famine among the homeless people. The river will not fall sufficiently to permit any attempts at reconstruction of the broken embankment until November. British military operations are seriously interfered with by the overflow.

MANDALAY, Aug. 24.—The damage done by the flood already amounts to $5,000,000. Many dead bodies are being constantly washed ashore.

ITALY.

THE CHOLERA EPIDEMIC.

ROME, Aug. 24.—Cholera returns for twenty-four hours: Barletta, 12 new cases and 3 deaths; Bisceglia, 7 new cases and 4 deaths; Ravenna, 11 new cases and 9 deaths; Vicensea, 9 new cases and 3 deaths; Padua, 12 new cases and 5 deaths; other infected districts, 34 new cases and 13 deaths.

Don't disgust everybody by hawking, blowing and spitting, but use Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy and be cured.

Within the past few days the secretary of the interior has notified Gov. Moody that after approval and certification by the department and the land office the character of swamp and abandoned lands cannot again be called in question upon affidavit of contest which merely alleges that the land is not of the character granted, unless the applicant further alleges fraud or mistake in the procurement of the decision of the secretary, and the acts constituting the frauds must be specifically stated. He further holds that a party may contest the right to such lands prior to approval and certification by alleging and proving a settlement prior to such removal, and that the land is not swamp and overflowing, but is fit for cultivation without artificial drainage.

YAMHILL NOTES.

Is Your Blood Pure?

For impure blood the best medicine known, SCOVILL'S SARSAPARILLA, OR BLOOD AND LIVER SYRUP, may be implicitly relied on when everything else fails. Take it in the spring time especially for the impure secretions of the blood incident to that season of the year; and take it at all times for Cancer, Scrofula, Liver Complaints, Weakness, Boils, Tumors, Swellings, Skin Diseases, Malaria, and the thousand ills that come from impure blood. To insure a cheerful disposition take SCOVILL'S BLOOD AND LIVER SYRUP, which will restore the mind to its natural equilibrium.

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.

Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold only in half-pound tins by grocers, labelled thus:

ITEMS FROM LA GRANDE

LA GRANDE, Aug 21

The mining fever is still raging, and almost daily parties are leaving to prospect our surrounding mountains in quest of the precious metal.

The sound of the reaper, the mower and thresher is heard in the land, and sheaves of golden grain and stacks of hay are seen in every direction, both grain and hay yielding better than expected

The weather still continues very warm, and the atmosphere is filled with smoke and dust, which is anything but agreeable. All those who can get away are in the mountains rusticating and trying to get a sniff of fresh air

As yet no intelligence has been received of the whereabouts of Willis Skiff, of Union whose very mysterious disappearance from North Powder some weeks ago created such a sensation in this county, where he was so well known. Some think he has been foully dealt with, while others seem to think he has skipped

Early on Friday morning, the 20th inst., the cheese factory and creamery of Mr Payne, located at the Cove, was destroyed by fire There was $3000 worth of cheese in the building which was a total loss. The entire loss can not be less than $5000 I understand the insurance on the property had expired a few weeks previous to the fire

Now that the smoke from the smouldering ruins of the late disastrous fire is blown away the people of LaGrande are beginning to wake up to the future interests of the town, and excavations and other preparations are now being made for the immediate erection of good, substantial brick buildings, on the grounds formerly occupied by the wooden ones Messrs Biggenson & Rogers Bissett Brooks and Anson have already contracted for the erection of bricks, and quite a number of others are talking of doing the same while a several others instances the framework for wooden buildings is being erected The sound of the hammer and saw resounds from every direction and soon, Phoenix like La Grande will rise from its ashes a more substantial and beautiful town than ever

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

POLICE COURT.—In the police court yesterday George Humphrey was arraigned on a charge of drunkenness He pleaded guilty and explained to the court that if he was allowed to go he wouldn't show up full any more as his money was all gone Judge Dement replied that he had been around too often of late, and that he could go at the expiration of five days. A young fellow named John Murphy was sent below to keep Humphrey company Murphy, after filling up, went around hunting for a fight and had to be thrown out of several saloons. Joseph Allen, alias James Murphy, had an examination on a charge of stealing a set of harness from the foot of Alder street, belonging to H W Winch, and was held to answer before the grand jury The accused made a statement to the effect that he was released from the county jail last March and went to Spokane Falls At the time alleged in the complaint that the harness was stolen he claims he was still at Spokane As Allen has been convicted of two other charges of larceny within the last few days his explanation wasn't taken for much When arraigned on charge of assault and battery on Miss Dolphin Bailey, Jeff Whalen said, "Well, if she says I struck her I guess I did" The complainant's story is that Whalen rooms at her house on Caruthers street, and Monday night they came down town to witness the Logan parade They dropped into a saloon and had a glass of beer and on coming out Whalen suddenly became ill tempered and struck her twice, when she ran away from him and summoned her nephew to her assistance Said she, "This is not the first time Jeff has struck me" Whalen was fined $5

SINGULAR INJURY IN A RUNAWAY.—Last Sunday afternoon Gus Klein, a liquor dealer on Second street, was out driving in a cart with his wife and two children When on B street, near the Sherlock residence the horse shied and threw Klein out He clung to the lines but the horse stumbled throwing the remaining occupants violently to the ground Mrs. Klein suffered the dislocation of both shoulders How it happened she is unable to tell She had the youngest child in the left arm and was trying to protect it She was thrown to the ground face downward and struck on her left elbow This accounts for one shoulder dislocated Probably she had the right arm extended at full length and the force of the fall—Mrs Klein being a heavy woman—was sufficient to make the arm describe a circle She was conveyed to her residence, where Dr A S Nichols was immediately summoned and reduced the dislocations It is not likely that the injury will be permanent Mrs Klein also received a bad cut over the eye and her legs were severely bruised but no bones broken The child in her arms escaped injury The other was considerably bruised about the forehead The cart was demolished

SADLY BETRAYED BY A WOMAN.—Detective Sam Simmons leaves for Tacoma to-day with a requisition for Florence Helen McGregor, who was arrested Monday at that place by Marshal Fulmer on a charge of larceny The victim is J C Donnelly a San Franciscan Last week he met Miss McGregor at Tacoma, where she was employed in a restaurant She signified her desire to go to California, and Donnelly agreed to pay her fare, and brought her to Portland en route As has already been stated, she rewarded his kindness by skipping out with $210 of his money Donnelly has since gone to San Francisco, having important business at that point to transact, but has sent word that he will return here and prosecute the woman Miss McGregor is but 17 years of age Some four months ago she stopped at the Multnomah lodging house, and on leaving there for Astoria took with her a lot of blankets At Astoria she went under the name of Nellie Warren It is probable that she will also be prosecuted for the larceny of the blankets

AT THE CASCADE MINERAL SPRINGS.—The list of guests at the Cascades Mineral springs since last report is as follows J R Bingham Mrs Moore, Henry Jopp, John Johnston Wm Carrick, F R. QUARREL IN A HOUSEHOLD.—A Mrs Jones and Mrs Voos appeared in the police court yesterday for the purpose of reciting the history of a quarrel that took place between them They live together in a house at Front and Jefferson streets Recently they had some disagreement, which it was impossible to ascertain the cause of from the evidence adduced yesterday, and, according to Mrs. Voos's account of the difficulty, Mrs Jones took hold of her by the shoulders and shook her, also abusing her in round terms Mrs Voos had Mrs. Jones arrested for abusive language and assault and battery Both cases were tried together. In the abusive language case Mrs Jones was fined $10 The case of assault and battery was dismissed and the costs taxed to Mrs Voos

ARRESTED FOR HORSE STEALING.—Joseph Guild, who works in Therkelsen's mill, was held to answer before the grand jury by Justice Tuttle yesterday for stealing a mare and a colt belonging to the estate of his divorced and since deceased wife The animals were taken from a farm in Washington county which is part of the estate, and from there to Sauvie s island When Guild was divorced from his wife he gave her the farm and stock, and he subsequently remarried and left Washington county Some days ago he went to the farm and got the mare and colt from his son on some pretense or other, and left another horse he had with him in their stead Edward Holman, the administrator of the estate, caused Guild s arrest on the ground that he had no right to the horses

FALL GAME SATURDAY.—The Seattle Reds will arrive here next Saturday and play in the afternoon against the Portlands at the Oaks There will be one performance only, as the play bills read, because the Seattle club will not play on Sunday, either at home or abroad The visitors will present as their battery Dickey and Purnell who, if reports are to be credited are equal to Mullee and Creegan, formerly of the Stars Dickey did not play against the Portlands when they were defeated at Seattle last June, 18 to and it would seem as if the Lyons team are going to have their hands full to achieve a victory next Saturday

SOUNDINGS FOR BRIDGE.—Yesterday a party of engineers under the direction of Mr H Hawgood, who will have charge of the sub-structure, completed the soundings of the Willamette river at the site of the Morris on street bridge After these have been plotted it will be decided what style of foundation will be necessary The greatest depth was seventy three feet at zero of the gauge It is understood that the old pivotal pier, which has stood for several years unprotected, is as substantial as it was the day work ceased, will be used for the new structure and that at least two of the other piers must be pulled up "by the roots"

INCORPORATED.—Articles of incorporation of the Bull Run water company have been filed in the office of the county clerk, by A G Cunningham, C B Talbot and others The object is to bring water for drinking and other purposes to Portland and its environs This same company were some time ago granted a franchise by the common council They failed to commence operations in the first instance as agreed and were granted an extension of time All of the original organizers are not included in the present incorporation

THE NEW PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.—The work of excavating for the new church of the First Presbyterian society corner of Tenth and Alder streets is well under way Only the foundations will be laid this season It has not yet been decided what kind of stone will be used in the edifice, but a decision will soon be reached and a contract let, so that the stone can be quarried during the winter, and prepared for the masons by early spring The cost of the structure will probably not be less than $80,000

TO LOOK AT BULL RUN.—A number of contractors are going over to-day to Bull Run river to look around and see what is to be done, with the idea of submitting bids for roadwork and headwork at the river The headwork will consist of the building of a masonry conduit to be used in carrying water into a well or shutting tank. Five miles of a road is to be built. The object of the road is to get material in for the construction of the conduit and for other future uses

TO FORECLOSE MORTGAGE.—Yesterday the New England Mortgage Security company began suit in the United States court to recover $1328 02 from George W. Wilson and wife, of Albany, upon a note for $1300 executed April 8, 1881, and secured by a mortgage on the N ½ of Wm. Klum and wife's donation land claim situate in T 12, S R 1 W.

KILLED BY THE CARS.—James Brown, who worked in a sawmill at Yaquina, was accidentally killed Monday night. He had been drinking some, and laid down just outside the railroad track and went to sleep A freight train came along and struck Brown on the head fracturing his skull He was picked up and carried home, and died soon afterwards. Brown was about 40 years old, and leaves a wife and a large family At the point where the accident occurred there is quite a curve in the road, and it was just as the train rounded this that Brown was struck He was not seen until the engine was right on him.

TRYING IT AGAIN.—Last Saturday Sheriff Smith and R hardson, of Albany, in searching through murderer Saunders s quarters, found a fine steel saw in the straw mattress on which he sleeps It was of fine make and is probably the one which he used in making his escape last July Three pieces of wood were also found which had been fitted as handles for the saw blade, and their appearances showed that they had been used A few days ago a knife made into a saw was found concealed in Saunders s cell It is the opinion that he was only waiting for another opportunity to break out.

FIRMS CONSOLIDATED.—The wholesale book and stationery business of J. K Gill & Co and the retail business of W B Ayer & Co have been consolidated under the firm name of J. K Gill & Co In a few weeks the stocks also will be consolidated, each firm giving up its present location and moving into Mr Henry Failing's new block, corner First and Oak. They will occupy three floors, the lower to be devoted to retailing and the two upper to jobbing The firms expect to get into the new quarters about the middle of next month

LECTURES.—The Rev J C Eccleston rector of St John s Protestant Episcopal church of Clifton, Staten Island, New York will deliver two lectures in the Tabernacle under the auspices of the Young Men s Christian association, about the middle of September Dr Eccleston is well known by many of our citizens as an eloquent preacher and lecturer Both lectures will be illustrated by stereopticon views with oxyhydrogen light

MAINS FOR ELEVATORS.—The Portland water company is laying an eight inch hydraulic main in Washington street from Front to Second and on Second half way to Stark. It connects with the big main in Front street and is for the purpose of supplying water for two elevators in Reed s new block, between Second Third Stark and Washington and the elevator in Lipman & Co s store

TO THE CIRCUS.—For those wishing to see Cole s mammoth circus the steamer Sellwood will leave Oswego at 6 P M, Thursday, August 26, stopping at all way points, returning after the performance

WHAT BAKING POWDER SHALL WE USE

This plain question comes home to every housekeeper We all desire pure and wholesome food, and this cannot be had with the use of impure or poisonous baking powder There can be no longer a question that all the cheaper lower grade of baking powders contain either alum lime or phosphatic acid As loth as we may be to admit so much against what may have been some of our household gods there can be no gainsaying the unanimous testimony of the official chemists Indeed, analysts seem to find no baking powder entirely free from some one of these objectionable ingredients except the Royal, and that they report as chemically pure We find some of the baking powders advertised as pure to contain, under the tests of Prof Chandler Habirshaw and others, nearly two per cent of lime, while others are made from alum with no cream of tartar This we presume, accounts for their lack of leavening power as sometimes complained of by the cook and for the bitter taste found in the biscuits so frequently complained of by ourselves

Aside from the inferiority of the work done by these powders the physiologists assure us that lime and alum taken into the system in such quantities as this are injurious They are not decomposed by heat nor dissolved in mixing or baking They go with the bread, therefore, into the stomach, where their physiological effects are indigestion, dyspepsia, or worse evils

The question naturally arises, why do these cheap baking powder makers use these things Alum is three cents a pound, lime still cheaper, while cream of tartar costs thirty five or forty The reasons for the chemical purity of the Royal Baking Powder were recently given in the New York I ..s in an interesting description of a new method for refining argols, or crude cream of tartar It seems that it is only under this process that cream of tartar can be freed from the lime natural to it and rendered chemically pure that the patents and plant for this cost the Royal Baking Powder company about half a million dollars, and that they maintain exclusive control of the rights

Prof McMurtrie, late chief chemist of the Department of Agriculture at Washington D C in the interests of commerce, made an examination of this process, and reported upon the results attained in the refined cream of tartar The following extract from his report would seem to answer the question repeated at the head of this article, and which is so frequently propounded by the housekeeper

"I have examined the cream of tartar used by the Royal Baking Powder company in the manufacture of their baking powder, and find it to be perfectly pure, and free from lime in any form The chemical tests to which I have submitted the Royal Baking powder prove it perfectly healthful, and free from every deleterious substance"

A BIG SUIT.

The Oregon Iron and Steel Co Against Smith Bros & Watson.

Plaintiff Claims Ownership of all the Defendants' Property and Demands it Together with Profits on a Job

In the state circuit court yesterday, the Oregon Iron and Steel company, through their attorneys, Dolph, Bellinger, Mallory & Simon, Strong & Strong and B Williams, began suit in equity against S G Reed, F C Smith, C E Smith J F Watson and Henry Villard, comprising the late firm of Smith Bros. & Watson, to recover property and for an accounting The complaint is long and would make more than two columns of THE OREGONIAN s smallest type Following is an epitomized statement of the complaint

Some time after the organization of the Oregon Iron and Steel company, Smith Bros & Watson proposed to sell to the company all their property, which consisted of the real estate and the foundry at the foot of Harrison street, and the old Oregon Iron works in Albina. The consideration was to be $450,000 stock in the Oregon Iron and Steel company Negotiations were concluded and shortly afterward the property was sold and transferred to the company, and deeds executed therefor but not recorded Included in the transferred property was a contract for completing the great iron ferry boat for the Northern Pacific railroad, now used to transfer trains across the Columbia at Kalama, upon which the profit was $100,000 The Oregon Iron and Steel company took possession of Smith Bros & Watson s property and has held this property and did its other business for months

During this time and up to July, 1886, S. G. Reed was president of the Oregon Iron and Steel company and the controlling ... policy of the company He was ... partner in the firm of Smith Bros & Watson Henry Villard is also a large stockholder in the company and secretly interested ... of Smith Bros & Watson In ... the stock of Smith Bros & Watson ... the Oregon Iron and Steel company ... who were ... the company The capital stock of the company was reduced from $3,000,000 to $1,500,000 which made the Smith Bros & Watson s pay $225,000 of stock instead of $450,000

After the Oregon Iron and Steel company had carried on their business for several months and found it was not going to "pan out" well Reed, Villard and Smith Bros & Watson deemed it to their interest not to take the stock and they caused the property in question to be re-transferred to Smith Bros & Watson The property according to the schedule filed by the firm, was as follows

Real estate lots 106 and 10 Portland		$ 0 000 00
Buildings thereon		50 000 00
Machinery and tools		40 000 00
Drawings wood and iron patterns		20 000 00

Money etc and accounts	$2 10
Less wages and sundry bills	0 00	14 407 1
The Oregon Iron works Albina		0 000 00
		$20 1

The complaint concludes Wherefore plaintiff prays for a decree of this court that the plaintiff is the owner and entitled to the possession of the real and personal property sold and conveyed to it by the aforesaid firm of Smith Bros & Watson and that the conveyances, transfers and bills of sale therefor executed by them be re-established that defendants be decreed to make execute and deliver to the plaintiff good and sufficient deeds of conveyance for all said real property, and to transfer and deliver to the plaintiff such portion of the personal property so sold to plaintiff still remaining in their possession or under their control that said defendants account to plaintiff for the value of the property and assets sold and disposed of by them That the defendants be further decreed to account to the plaintiff for the profits realized by them in the building of the steam ferry boat and in the management, conduct and operation of the business of said Smith Bros & Watson sold to plaintiff as aforesaid and that defendants be also adjudged and decreed to account to plaintiff for the loss, damage and injury sustained by plaintiff by reason of the wrongful and fraudulent taking possession of the property and assets of plaintiff, and that a general accounting be had of all matters and transactions between plaintiff and defendants

It is sworn to by Elijah Smith, and dated August 13, 1886

FINE FRUIT—HOW RAISED

PORTLAND, Or, Aug 21, 1886

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Having occasion to visit Vancouver yesterday, among other things I did was to call at the residence of Mr A W Hidden This gentleman makes a specialty of raising fine peaches and prunes None better are to be found in the Portland market. He took me through his orchard The cultivation is perfect. Not a weed or other green thing is to be found save the trees The soil is in a fine mellow condition No evidences of drouth appear As a reward for such painstaking all the trees, both prune and peach, fairly bend under their weight of splendid fruit, and in many cases require propping Peaches are just in their prime The Early Crawford Alexander and Hale s early are the varieties of peaches, and the Italian is the kind of prunes raised The prunes will be ready to gather in from two to three weeks No evidences of failure appear among either variety of fruit. The writer was in this orchard a year ago Then the yield was thought to be enormous This year it is even more abundant Last year from 250 trees which are now eight years old the yield of fruit when dried was seven tons This year good judges say it will be ten tons from the same trees Mr H has finished a new drier of his own getting up, at a cost of from $800 to $1000, which will give him ample facilities for placing his crop on the market in fine condition

Mr Hidden s efforts in demonstrating the value of careful cultivation and ample manuring are certainly praiseworthy, and should be commended He has shown that it pays to do a thing well, an example which should be followed by all our farmers and fruit men in all lines of business the same rule will pay, for that matter He has ten acres more of ground almost ready for planting with peach and prune trees. The soil throughout his whole tract is a sandy loam with a thorough natural under drainage, consisting of a bed of gravel from four to six feet below the surface. This, with good cultivation, is a prime condition, and insures continuous crops of both these fruits. Those who endeavor to produce the less hardy fruits upon the more clayey soils should bear this in mind, especially since such soils generally lack proper underdraining

It is well worth the while of any one interested in our fruit growing interests to visit this place and see for themselves Mr Hidden's methods have passed beyond the experimental they are now demonstrated facts. This is the fourth year of successively good crops of both prunes and peaches. GEO H HIMES

THE STAGE.

THE NEW MARKET.—"Across the Continent" was repeated last night to a good house The gallery was crowded to standing room only Mr Ed M Page as "Knock-Me-Down Johnny," a typical New York street boy, has made a decided hit His work throughout is a careful and finished piece of acting Rush Bronson, as the highly colored Cæsar, Romeo, Hamlet, Richard III, etc., is very good Mr Mainhall as Joe Ferris and Mr Chappelle as Jack Adderly the villain, are of course equal to the requirements of their parts Mr Mainhall s scene in the last act, when he attaches the telegraph instrument to the cut wire, is very effective, his great anxiety while waiting to see if the little instrument, which alone could save him, would work, was a clever piece of acting The ladies are all good, but in "Across the Continent" the ladies are only of secondary consideration The villain, the hero, "Knock Me-Down Johnny," Cæsar, the Indians and telegraph instrument are of far more importance The whole play goes with a rush and dash, each exciting incident quickly following its forerunner with such smoothness that the present production would do no discredit to Oliver Doud Byron himself Manager Howe has spared no trouble or expense in the stage setting and scenery The snow scene, old Five Points, the dance house, and station 46, U. P. R. R., are all very good For the benefit of those who have never seen or heard of "Across the Continent," it may be of advantage to know that it strongly resembles "The Phœnix" and other of Milton Noble's plays in its luridly melodramatic action, and is in every way equal to any of Mr Noble's productions.

Government's Vacation.
Chicago Herald.

People whose nerves are unsteady may rest easy for awhile. Mr. Bayard is the only high official who is on duty at Washington, and even if he was as belligerent as Blaine and fiery as a Texas colonel he could not bring on a war Mexico is not likely to attack the United States and before the United States will attack Mexico certain formalities must be gone through with such as the assembling of congress and the exhaustive discussion of the whole subject.

Meantime it will be well for all Americans to observe that it makes very little difference to them whether there is a government in Washington or not Barring an occasional complication abroad, they could get along for an indefinite period without president and cabinet, senate and house, and life and property would be secure as ever Their own local governments are those in which they are most interested, and their chief concern as to that at Washington should be to make sure that it keeps its hands off things which it has no business to touch

THE EAST SIDE

RUNAWAY

Last night about 8 o clock a team attached to a brick wagon came galloping down J street at breakneck speed until reaching the corner of Third street, in front of the East Portland Iron foundry, where they ran against an iron lamp post which was broken off short and the horses were thrown down with great violence and the wagon completely wrecked The team, which belonged to John McDonald, was a good one, one of the horses was very badly cut about the neck and breast, so that the skin hung down in large pieces the other was not so badly injured They were taken to Lyon s stable, corner of I and Fifth street, where a veterinary surgeon sewed up and dressed the wounds It is supposed that McDonald, who was known to have been intoxicated when he started home with the team had been thrown out into the road and probably badly hurt but it was not known certain when this item was written The damage to the team and wagon will be considerable Luckily at the the time the runaway occurred but few teams were on the street, and no other damage is known to have been done

ASSAULT AND BATTERY

A complaint was sworn to before Recorder Newell yesterday morning accusing one Thomas Morton of assault and battery upon a boy named Richard Rogers Morton was arrested by Marshal McMillan the night previous for being drunk and disorderly upon the street and using obscene language When in the jail yard the prisoner endeavored to escape, and the marshal being unable to unlock the door, gave the key to the boy Rogers and asked him to unlock it. At this Morton became almost unmanageable, and struck the boy The marshal blew his whistle, and help soon arrived and Morton was lodged behind the bars for the night. In the morning he was taken before the recorder tried, found guilty and fined $2 and costs, but having no money to pay he was committed to the county jail for twelve days

W C T U DAY OF PRAYER

The following is the order of exercises at W C T U hall Wednesday, August 25, for the day of prayer ordered by the state president, Mrs A R Riggs 10 to 11 A. M, A. TWO VAGRANTS

J Murphy and F M Warren were arrested by the marshall on Monday night for being drunk and disorderly on the street. They spent the night in jail Yesterday morning they were taken before Recorder Newell, and upon pleading guilty, Murphy was sentenced to three days and Warren to five days in the city jail. They will probably have a chance to exercise their muscle at street cleaning, which will be the first work they have done for many a day, according to their account.

BURSTING OF A WATER MAIN

A little after dusk last evening one of the city water company's mains under the Fourth street bridge, crossing Sullivan s gulch, burst and a large amount of water was lost before the officers of the company were informed of it. Some of the residents in that part of the city must not be surprised if they find the water shut off

PERSONALS.

Miss Eva Stroud left on the Olympian yesterday for a visit to friends at the East Portland camp, Long Beach.

Mr J H McPheeters, of Woodburn is in the city visiting with his daughters, Mrs Prof. Wash and Mrs. Bloxam

Mr and Mrs W H Marye returned last evening from Snowden springs, in the Calapooia mountains, where they have been camping for the past three weeks

California Republicans in Convention at Los Angeles.

A HOT FIGHT FOR FIRST PLACE.

A San Franciscan Shoots his Wife—An Advance in Freight Rates—Dempsey Willing to Box—Northern Notes.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 24—The nomination for governor of the state by the republican state convention being the most important, it is naturally occupying the first and fullest attention of the various delegates. All the candidates for that position are now here, with the exception of Gen. Dimond, whose train was delayed owing to the collision near Vallejo yesterday afternoon. He will arrive, however, this evening about 8 o'clock, and preparations are now being made by his supporters to give him a grand reception. John F. Swift, who has been receiving marked attention, to-day laughingly remarked that he supposed each candidate would have his day, and to-morrow would be Dimond's day. Hartson is sanguine, and goes so far as to claim 150 votes on the first ballot. The Dimond men claim 200. Mr. Swift does not claim any particular number, but says that he will get every ballot his friends and supporters can cast for him.

It is perfectly certain that after the first ballot has been cast the real fight will begin, and it will be a terrific one, for although it is not expected that the second ballot will be decisive, it will be important as "sizing up" the exact strength in the convention of the several candidates.

SUPREME JUDGES.

The contest for the nomination of judges of the supreme court will be only secondary to that for the governorship. In the opinion of many the nominations to these positions is a matter of even more importance at the present time than the nomination to the governorship. The San Joaquin delegates will make a determined fight for Judge Paterson. Judge McFarland continues to be viewed as a probable nominee, but the nomination of the third justice is still a matter of doubt. It is urged by the Southern delegates that the latter should come from the South, inasmuch as Justice Ross who resigns, was a Southern man, and this argument is used in favor of Judge Brunson, of Los Angeles.

Stearns of Santa Barbara bases his hopes for the lieutenant-governorship on the presumed fact that the governorship will go to San Francisco, and that therefore the lieutenant-governorship should go to the south. The southern men, however, have another candidate for that position in J. B. Adams, of San Luis Obispo.

An effort was made to-day to induce Senator Williams to act as chairman of the convention throughout the entire session, but he declined. The friends of Hartson and Reed attempted to unite on Speaker Parks of the assembly, but he also declined.

SWIFT IN THE LEAD.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—Judge Lake, of San Francisco, arrived here this evening. The intention is to hold him, as stated, in reserve and put him to the front the moment any of the present prominent candidates manifest weakness. It is believed to-night that the fight for first place will quickly narrow down to Swift and Hartson, and that Swift will have the lead. The Dimond men counted noses to-night and the count tallied up seventy for him. It is stated that Tom Fitch, who has procured a proxy, will place Dimond in nomination. Henry Edgerton will nominate Reed, and Col. J. P. Jackson will nominate Hartson. R. O. Morehouse, of Monterey, will probably nominate Swift, and ex-Gov. Newton Booth will second Swift's nomination.

It seems definitely settled that Mizner, of Solano, will be made chairman, notwithstanding the fact that the Reed and Hartson men are opposed to him. A review of the vote made to-night gives Swift a total of 142 votes, drawn from thirty-two counties, while his barometer is said to be steadily rising.

CALIFORNIA.

SHOT HIS WIFE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—Richard Cornell, who resides at 141 Fifth street, attempted to kill his wife this morning by shooting at her with a revolver. He emptied the contents of the weapon, which was a five shooter, at her, but only two of the shots took effect, neither causing a serious wound. One struck the fleshy portion of an arm, and the other one of the knuckles of the left hand. Immediately after the shooting he surrendered himself. Mrs. Frankie Cornell is a woman about 45 years of age, who married Cornell about three months ago, and according to the husband's statement made to a policeman, made his married life almost unbearable on account of disputes about property. Cornell is about 60 years of age and is a man of considerable property, who lives on his rents. He said that ever since the marriage his wife has been after him to induce him to make over some of his property in the event of his death, and that his refusal has been the cause of constant quarrels. It appears also from the statement made by Cornell that he was served yesterday with papers in a divorce proceeding, and this fact further widened the breach between them.

ADVANCE IN FREIGHT RATES.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—It is learned that at the recent meeting of the Colorado Pool association at Salt Lake it was decided to make a general increase of freight rates from this coast to Colorado. The new arrangement will go into effect on September 1. From California and Oregon terminals to Denver, Pueblo and Colorado Springs rates will be the same, with few exceptions, as from Chicago to the same points. Exceptions are as follows: From Pacific coast terminals to the Colorado points before mentioned, the carload rate on green fruit and oranges will be $1 40 per 100 pounds; on canned goods, $1 25; dried fruit and raisins, $1 30; wine in cases, $1 90; brandy in wood, $1 90; brandy in cases, $2 10; sugar, $1 20. The rate on clothing for less than carload lots has been fixed at $3; overalls, etc. (denim), $1 90; cigars, $2 80. On nearly all classes of goods there is a slight advance in rates.

DEMPSEY WILLING TO BOX.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—Jack Dempsey was asked to-day what he intended to do in relation to the challenge issued by Jack Burke at Chicago last week to box him. He stated that he had retired from the fighting arena, now that he was married, but if Burke would come on to this city he would box him for points with gloves, three rounds or more, the winner to take all the receipts, the match to take place between September 22 and October 1, and later.

CHICAGO, Aug. 24—Parson Davies, Burke's backer, in reply to Dempsey, says: Jack Burke has accepted Dempsey's offer to box him eight rounds, Queensbury rules, small soft gloves, the winner to take all the gate receipts, in San Francisco, at any time Dempsey may name.

TO DISBAR BARNES.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—Proceedings were instituted to-day in the supreme court by James L. Crittenden, attorney for G. W. Tyler, to have W. H. L. Barnes disbarred from the practice of law, for alleged attempts to bribe M. Gumpel to give testimony in the Sharon divorce case contrary to his belief, and for alleged bribery of J. A. McLoughin, clerk of Mr. Tyler, to remove certain papers connected with said divorce suit from Tyler's office.

CHINESE SALVATION ARMY CORPS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—A Chinese Salvation army corps has been organized in this city. It consists of four youths from the Chinese mission school, led by a white man. They operate in Chinatown, where the followers of Confucius are exhorted in their native language to desert their heathen deities and seek salvation from the proper source. Large crowds of Chinese gather to hear their countrymen in the efforts at evangelization.

COMING NORTH.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—Capt. George L. Lemon, of the Washington National Tribune, Rev. J. S. Lemon, Mrs. Kate B. Sherwood and Miss Nannie Calwell, who attended the G. A. R. encampment, sailed to-day on the Columbia for Portland. They will also visit Victoria and the Yellowstone.

MERCHANTS' INSTITUTE.

The twenty-first annual exhibition of the Merchants' institute was opened to-day, with the usual exercises, at the Grand opera house.

STATE DISPATCHES.

GEN. LOGAN AND PARTY AT TACOMA.

TACOMA, Aug. 24.—Gov. Alger, with Gen. Logan and party, arrived in Tacoma at 6 this evening, in two special cars. A large delegation of G. A. R. comrades and citizens, with carriages, music and banners awaited them at the depot, while cannon were fired in honor of their arrival. They were joined here by seven members of the party who came to Tacoma by sea from San Francisco, thus making the entire party number twenty-six. After dinner at the Tacoma hotel a reception was given in their honor at Grand Army hall. It was filled to its utmost capacity, and handsomely decorated. Gen. Logan and Gov. Alger made brief speeches, which were enthusiastically received. To-morrow morning will be spent driving over the town, and at noon the party leave for Seattle.

In the course of Logan's speech to-night he advocated the admission of Washington territory into the sisterhood of states, and did not see why it should longer be kept out of the Union. A humorous reference to the vetoed pension bills brought great applause. Gen. Beaver, of Pennsylvania, made a very happy speech. Gov. Alger's remarks were upon the commercial features and future of Washington territory. He thought it destined to be the greatest lumber producer of the country. Speaking of the Chinese, he thought that laws should be passed that would forever close the gates of the country to pagans or any other class of people who are incapable of being good citizens.

FOUND DEAD.

CORVALLIS, Aug. 24.—James Brown, commonly called "whispering Jimmy," one of the first settlers of Yaquina bay, was found dead last night on the Oregon Pacific track near Oysterville. It is not yet known how he met his death, whether it was accidental or he was the victim of foul play. The coroner has gone over to investigate.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

NOTES FROM WALLA WALLA.

WALLA WALLA, Aug. 24.—A dispatch from Bishop Paddock, Tacoma, announces the engagement of Miss Weaver, of Oswego, N. Y., as principal of St. Paul's school for young ladies.

Mrs. W. W. Kirk, nee Heppner, committed suicide by drinking water in which she had soaked poisoned wheat.

Henry Brissler, of Warm Springs, Oregon, accidentally shot himself. The ball was imbedded in the bone of the thigh, and he may lose a leg.

Scrofulous humors, hives, pimples and boils are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Sold by druggists.

Carlisle, Nephews & Co.'s market report dated Calcutta, July 6, says: "One of the features of our trade lately with the colonies is the shipment of wheat, of which about 1000 tons have been passed out for various ports."

In its review of the San Francisco merchandise market for the last week the Commercial News says: While there is very little to excite attention in the merchandise market at present, trade is fully up to the average of the midsummer season, and the prospects of a good fall trade are excellent. The outlook is further improved if the present advance in grain is maintained. Almost every product of farm and orchard has this year realized at least fair profits to growers, and fruits have been a most fortunate property to be possessed of. The interior therefore will be in better position to spend money this fall than for some seasons past. Immigration, too, is beginning to tell, and as the state settles up the trade that cannot be reached by competing cities is extended. There has been an advance in the price of codfish, pack of 1886, while 1885 catch is steady at unaltered figures. Catch of 1886 is now quoted 4½c for bundles, 5c for selected 100 lb cases, and 6c for boneless. In the canned goods trade the activity noted for some time past continues, all lines of fruits and vegetables finding quick sales at full prices. The salmon market has advanced fully 5c during the week, and at current prices is very firm. It is said that not over 20,000 cases remain unsold on the Columbia river. The bag market has weakened a little since last review, and the epidemic of auction sales has broken out again. On next Wednesday there will be offered at auction 1,000 packages of the new crop China and Japan teas. This has been alluded to by the press as an innovation in the manner of disposing of tea, but is merely a revival of trade sales that were very common a few years since, but with some changes in the method of offering the goods. There will be no brands to identify the lots which will be sold on their merits and without reserve. A series of sales, one each month, will be held and can not but be of the greatest advantage to small dealers. There has been quite a decline in the price of mixed rice, due more to the inferior quality of recent imports than to excessive stocks. No. 2 and extra No. 1 China have advanced sharply under limited supplies and the knowledge that the new crop will not reach this market for about four months. Hawaiian rice, as predicted last week, has touched $4 50 and is strong at that figure with moderate sales reported. China mixed is now quoted $1 05@4 15; No. 2 China, $5 35@——; No. 1 extra, $6 65@6 75; Carolina, $4@4 25. Nut oil is reduced to 45@47½c. Quicksilver is less firm and the outside figure recently quoted is now omitted. Pig tin is scarce and an advance of 1c per pound is reported. Tin plate is steady, except terne, which is somewhat higher.

WHEAT—Foreign markets no weaker, but all American are lower. Chicago and New York closed nearly 1c below yesterday, and San Francisco options fell off, although in large business. Here it is impossible to quote, for holders are offering nothing in good faith, and buyers refuse to name what they would be willing to pay for spot lots. Bids of $1 20 failed to buy valley, sellers claiming $1 22½ or even better to be possible. Warehousemen are asking for bids. Walla Walla grades were in larger receipt yesterday, but the whole movement is comparatively small. Values of California cargoes abroad are just [illegible] were one year ago, off coast be[illegible] 6d, and prompt shipment 35s 6d.

FLOUR—Most holders are firm in their views, but the market remains in an unsettled condition. Demands fair.

OATS—Rather weaker, choice [illegible] white selling at 41c and 42c. The trade is looking for lower prices.

EGGS—Firm at 15c under light receipts and good request. It is expected that an advance will be had before the week is over, but heavier receipts will prevent such a turn.

MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Governments were dull and steady. The stock market to-day reflected a greatly improved feeling. London still continues to be the prime moving force, and to-day purchased a part of the stocks sold yesterday. There was very little news of a character to influence values, but rumors and gossip were plenty. The market was firm at the opening, first prices showing advances of ⅛@⅜ per cent. There was a slight reaction in the early morning, but prices soon became firm and continued to advance until just before closing, when a small reaction occurred, but the market closed near the best figures reached. Final prices show advances in almost every case, but for fractional amounts only in the active list. Delaware & Hudson, however, is up 1, St. Louis & San Francisco preferred 7¾, Manhattan 5 per cent, and San Francisco first preferred 3¼.

The Mail and Express says: In the mining market to-day Homestake showed higher quotations on call. Sutro tunnel appears to have reached bottom prices, but there are no signs of an advance or further upward movement in the face of the present legal entanglements. With the exception of complete stagnation in Leadville shares, the general market shows an improved condition, with inquiries for various stocks from numerous quarters, leading to belief in an early activity and advance in the general market. Leadville 20, Mexican 65@70, Mono $2 70, Ophir $1 45, Navajo 65, Bodie $3 00, Best & Belcher, $1 30, Consolidated 52, California & Virginia $2 30@2 35, Sutro Tunnel 7.

MONEY, BONDS AND STOCKS.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Money on call quiet, ranging from 2 to 5, closing at 2 asked. Prime paper, 4@5. Sterling exchange, quiet and steady at $4 81¾ for sixty day bills, $4 83¼ for demand.

Bk Goodell, 840 tons, built at Searsport, Me., 1860, and lately hailing from that port, now at New York, has been purchased by Carsten Boe for Norwegian account, on private terms. Her name has been changed to Christine Edela.

Ship Ellen Goodspeed, 1226 tons, built at Bath in 1868, lately hailing from Bath, has been sold, name changed to Lizzie & Eugenie, and gone under the German flag.

Bk Florence L., 743 tons, built at Bass river, N. S., in 1878, lately hailing from Halifax, has been sold, name changed to Flora and gone under the Norwegian flag.

Bk Helen Marion, 693 tons, built at Tynemouth, N. B., in 1869, lately hailing from St. John, N. B., has been sold, name changed to Almaria, and gone under the Norwegian flag.

Capt. Lowell, of ship Ivy, from Port Townsend, at Melbourne July 10, reported July 12, saw an American vessel of about a thousand tons, hard and fast ashore on Elizabeth reef. Capt. Lowell is of the opinion that the vessel was the bk Kitsap, which left Puget sound some six days before him for Melbourne. The wreck had the mizzenmast carried away at the deck, but the other two masts were standing. Could not see any one on the vessel or reef.

FROM POLK COUNTY.

McCOY, Aug. 23, 1886.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Threshing in this county has about ceased, and the grain has all been harvested without any blemish, and the yield in wheat per acre is exceptionally good. There is, however, a shortage in oats and hay. I think there is no overplus of the former in this county, and the latter will be made up in oat straw.

Vegetables of all kinds are a partial failure on account of the long drought, as we never have any thunder showers in the northern part of this county.

Well, congress has finally adjourned, to the great relief of the people, as it was thought for a while that it would continue in session until the overplus in the treasury had all been squandered, and most likely it would have been done had they not feared the veto power of the president. Most of our senators have an opportunity now to have their labels renewed during recess.

Will THE OREGONIAN please hereafter to advocate the nomination of our senators by the state convention, so that the people of the state may hold the veto power over them? Respectfully,

E.

What is the Use

Of dragging yourself around, day after day, without any life or activity, feeling all tired out and miserable, when you might be as quick and lively and strong as ever. Take care of yourself at once, or in the depleted condition of your system, a complaint otherwise trivial, may fasten upon you with serious or fatal result. Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine you need to build up your entire system, to purify and quicken your blood, and to give you appetite and strength.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier has no equal. It tones the system, strengthens and invigorates, giving new life." J. R. SAUNDERS, St. Paul Street, Cincinnati, O.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar.

DR. SPINNEY

Multnomah Block, opposite Postoffice, Portland, Or. treats with the same remarkable success as of old ALL CHRONIC, NERVOUS & SPECIAL DISEASES. Call, or write for pamphlet and list of questions. Address Box 923, Portland, Or.

46 Years experience Proves Perry Davis' Pain-Killer the CURE for CHOLERA Cholera-Morbus, Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Summer Complaints, and all Diseases of the Bowels.

DR. JOHN BULL'S Smith's Tonic Syrup FOR THE CURE OF FEVER and AGUE Or CHILLS and FEVER, AND ALL MALARIAL DISEASES.

The proprietor of this celebrated medicine justly claims for it a superiority over all remedies ever offered to the public for the SAFE, CERTAIN, SPEEDY and PERMANENT cure of Ague and Fever, or Chills and Fever, whether of short or long standing. He refers to the entire Western and Southern country to bear him testimony to the truth of the assertion that in no case whatever will it fail to cure if the directions are strictly followed and carried out. In a great many cases a single dose has been sufficient for a cure, and whole families have been cured by a single bottle, with a perfect restoration of the general health. It is, however, prudent, and in every case more certain to cure, if its use is continued in smaller doses for a week or two after the disease has been checked, more especially in difficult and long-standing cases. Usually this medicine will not require any aid to keep the bowels in good order. Should the patient, however, require a cathartic medicine, after having taken three or four doses of the Tonic, a single dose of KENT'S VEGETABLE FAMILY PILLS will be sufficient. Use no other.
